the novella gambara is part of the philosophical studies section of honore de balzac s the human comedy it follows a tumultuous relationship between italian nobleman andrea marcosini and the beautiful young marianna she happens to be married to a mercurial much older composer who some believe is a genius and others regard as an abject failure this study addresses two desiderata of historical emotion research reflecting on the interdependence of textual functions and the representation of emotions and acknowledging the interdependence of studies on the premodern and modern periods in the history of emotion contemporary research on the history of emotion is characterised by a proliferation of studies on very different eras authors themes texts and aspects the enthusiasm and confidence with which situations actions and interactions involving emotions in history are discovered however has led to overly direct attempts to access the represented objects emotions feelings affects as a result too little attention has been paid to the conditions and functions of their representations that is why this study engages with the emotion research of historians from an unashamedly philological perspective such an approach provides among other things insights into the varied often contradictory observations that can be made about the history of emotion in modernity and
